ANNUAL REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., October 15, 1935.

SIR: I have the honor to submit the following report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935:

COLLECTIONS

Total collections of internal-revenue taxes during the fiscal year 1935 amounted to $3,299,435,572, compared with $2,672,239,195 for the fiscal year 1934, an increase of $627,196,377, or 23 percent. The detail of the administration of these taxes appears in the following text and the detail of receipts in the statistical tables appended to this report.

Income-tax collections for the fiscal year 1935 were $1,099,230,383, compared with $817,025,340 in the preceding fiscal year, an increase of $282,205,043, or 35 percent. The greater part of this increase was due to larger current income-tax collections during the second half of the fiscal year 1935, which reflected not only the relatively higher individual incomes and corporate earnings for the calendar year 1934 but also the effects of the Revenue Act of 1934 and the Treasury's change in its administration of depreciation allowances. The latter factor, together with the special efforts of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to collect back taxes on incomes, resulted in increased collections from this source during the fiscal year 1935.

Collections from miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes, exclusive of agricultural adjustment taxes, amounted to $1,673,982,831 in 1935, as compared with $1,483,790,969 during the preceding fiscal year, an increase of $190,191,862, or 13 percent. Due chiefly to the fact that 1935 was the first full fiscal year during which repeal of the eighteenth amendment was effective, collections from taxes on distilled spirits and wines showed a substantial increase in 1935 as compared with the preceding year. Collections from certain other sources, chiefly from taxes on estates, gifts, fermented malt liquors, and tobacco, also increased and more than offset decreased collections from taxes on gasoline due to lower rate of tax, documentary stamp taxes, and the repealed taxes on dividends and checks.

Agricultural adjustment tax collections were $526,222,358 in 1935, as compared with $371,422,886 in 1934, an increase of $154,799,472, or 42 percent. This increase was due mainly to the fact that these taxes were not in effect during the full fiscal year 1934, and in the case of peanuts, rice, the tobacco producers' sales tax, and the cotton ginning tax, not until the fiscal year 1935.

A summary of tax collections by months appears in table 3 of this report. A summary comparison of tax collections by quarters is as follows:

Back taxes

The total additional revenue made available for collection was $179,039,568, as compared with $194,030,746 the previous fiscal year. The field forces of the Income Tax Unit secured agreements to the immediate assessment and collection of $23,797,542, while $155,242,027 was assessed after consideration in Washington.

The following table classifies the amount made available for collection after consideration in Washington according to the procedure involved:

	Amount assessed	Percent of total
Assessments based on agreements executed prior to mailing of 90-day letters	$66,846,866.58	43.0
Assessments based on agreements executed subsequent to mailing of 90-day letters	4,312,969.05	2.8
Assessments listed in cases where taxpayers neither executed agreements nor filed appeals	13,786,480.88	8.9
Assessments listed in appealed cases, after decision by Board of Tax Appeals	69,408,400.75	44.7
Abatement and credit claims rejected	887,309.73	.6
Total	155,242,026.99	100.0

In addition to the amount of revenue thus made available, taxes were also assessed under the jeopardy provisions of the several revenue acts, as follows:

	1934	1935
Under bankruptcy and dissolution procedure	$26,223,540.96	$30,948,136.24
Returns believed to be fraudulently rendered	13,425,730.81	7,233,565.13
Total assessed	39,649,271.77	38,181,701.37
Interest	8,875,646.89	11,325,177.44
Penalties	4,771,665.02	3,965,492.96
Grand total	53,296,583.68	53,472,371.77

Claims and overassessments

The following table shows the number of claims adjusted and certificates of overassessment issued, together with the amounts of overassessment involved, during the fiscal years 1934 and 1935:

	1934	1935
Claims:	Number	Number
Pending at beginning of year	22,434	20,732
Filed during year (new claims)	34,135	33,844
Received from other sources		5,214
Total to be adjusted	56,569	59,790
Allowed in full or in part	25,641	25,052
Rejected	10,196	11,900
Total adjusted	35,837	36,952
Pending at end of year	20,732	22,838
Certificates of overassessment issued where no claim has been filed	26,480	18,779
Amount of overassessment settled by—
Abatement	$112,371,340.67	$59,938,289.64
Credit	19,123,080.94	27,226,775.32
Refund	29,056,285.26	15,621,703.04
Total	160,550,706.87	102,786,768.00
Interest	11,754,027.39	5,511,960.19
Grand total	172,304,734.26	108,298,728.19

NOTE.—The amount involved in claims filed during the year was $99,952,466.13, as compared with $176,132,959.94 the preceding year. Of the claims adjusted during the year, the amounts rejected totaled $104,526,409.83, as compared with $113,340,642.51 the preceding year.

There were also allowed 10,179 collectors' claims, of which 8,935 recommended abatements or credits and 1,244 recommended refunds. These claims were largely multiple item claims or claims for refund to several taxpayers, and involved 17,333 items for abatement or credit and 47,506 items for refund. These adjustments usually occur in consequence of arithmetical errors made in the preparation of returns by taxpayers and as a rule no claims are filed by taxpayers.

Statutory notices of deficiency

During the year 14,529 statutory notices of deficiency were mailed by the Income Tax Unit. This figure compares with 13,003 released during the previous fiscal year.

The ratio of petitions filed with the Board of Tax Appeals to the number of 90-day letters issued during the year was 31 percent, as compared with 41 percent during the fiscal year 1934. The number of tax years involved in cases appealed likewise decreased from 5,347 in the fiscal year 1934 to 4,540 in 1935. The following table shows the distribution by tax years of petitions filed during the fiscal years 1934 and 1935:

Tax year	1934	1935	Tax year	1934	1935
1917	24	8	1927	172	143
1918	21	11	1928	223	169

1924	76	47	1934		3
1925	95	92
1926	128	98	Total	5,347	4,540

Reopened cases involving rejected claims for refund

During the fiscal year 1935, 1,181 requests by taxpayers for the reopening of claims for refund which had previously been acted upon were considered; of these, 840 were denied and 341 allowed. The number of requests allowed was approximately 29 percent of the total considered.

Returns on hand at end of year

The following table compares the distribution of all returns on hand by tax years, at the close of the past two fiscal years:

Returns on hand June 30, 1934 and 1935, by tax years

Tax year	1934	1935	Tax year	1934	1935
1917	116	167	1927	634	507
1918	85	119	1928	1,033	823

1926	388	435	Total	363,670	402,394

¹ Figures are incomplete, since the preliminary work on returns for any year cannot be completed by the end of the following fiscal year.

Returns pending for the tax years 1917 to 1932, inclusive, on which the statute of limitations has generally run, are regarded by the Income Tax Unit as prior year returns. The work on returns for 1933 is regarded as part of the current work of the Unit, since the period of limitation for assessment on returns for this year will not run, as a rule, until March 15, 1936.

On June 30, 1935, 29,547 returns for 1933 and prior years were in Washington, and 336,659 were with revenue agents in the field for investigation. The Bureau's field force must complete investigation of the returns for 1933 and prior years in sufficient time to forward them to Washington well in advance of the date upon which the statute will run.

Returns pending in the field

On June 30, 1935, there were 356,906 income-tax returns for all years pending for verification in the offices of the 38 field divisions of the Income Tax Unit, compared with 310,566 on hand on June 30, 1934. Of the total number of returns pending on June 30, 1935, 20,247 were for the years 1934 and 1935, while on June 30, 1934, 19,650 returns for 1933 and 1934 were on hand in the several field divisions.

During the year 567,298 returns were sent to the field, which, in addition to the 310,566 returns on hand at the beginning of the year, made a total of 877,864 to be accounted for. Of this number, 520,958 were disposed of, leaving a balance of 356,906 returns pending June 30, 1935.

The returns in the field on June 30, 1935, involved tax years as follows:

Tax year:	Number of returns
1921 and prior years	215
1922 to 1926	299
1927 to 1932	7,538
1933	328,607
1934 and 1935	20,247
Total	356,906

Of the total of 520,958 returns disposed of, 320,280, or 61 percent, were audited and 200,678 were returned without examination due to the inability of the available field forces to conduct a larger number of investigations within the statutory period of limitation.

Changes in tax liability were recommended by the field forces in 165,361, or 52 percent, of the returns audited. In 134,218, or 81 percent, of the changed returns, taxpayers reached agreements with the field agents. The net deficiencies recommended by the field forces for the year amounted to $265,967,440, an average of $109,949 for each of the 2,419 agents and auditors assigned to the examination of the 320,280 returns audited.

Claims for refund numbering 13,587, involving alleged overpayments in the aggregate amount of $35,394,957, were considered by the field forces during the year. Overassessments totaling $4,040,941, or 11 percent of the total amount claimed, were recommended, while the balance, $31,354,016, was recommended for rejection. As an incident to the examination of cases upon the bases of claims for refund filed, deficiency taxes were determined and recommended for assessment in the amount of $5,043,862. Therefore, considering the whole project resulting from the filing of claims for refund, a potential gain of $1,002,921 was produced.

A study of a representative group of cases involving additional taxes recommended by field forces during the period April 1, 1934, to March 31, 1935, showed that, of a total of $136,985,044 additional tax recommended by the field force, $97,457,001, or 71 percent, was assessed by agreement or upon the basis of decisions by the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

Significant comparisons between fiscal years 1934 and 1935

During 1935 back taxes were made available for immediate collection in the amount of $179,039,568, as compared with $194,030,746 during 1934.

During 1935 agreements secured by the field forces of the Unit and deficiencies assessed in the collectors' offices (Mim. 3552) amounted to $23,797,542, as compared with $18,897,448 during 1934, an increase of $4,900,094.

The average net deficiencies recommended by revenue agents was $109,949 in 1935, as compared with $81,085 during 1934, an increase of $28,864.

During 1935, $53,472,372 was assessed under the jeopardy provisions of the internal-revenue acts, as compared with $53,296,584 assessed during 1934, an increase of $175,788.

The balance of claims on hand as of June 30, 1935, was 22,838, as compared with 20,732 on June 30, 1934, an increase of 2,106.

During 1935 final notices of deficiency were released in 14,529 tax-year cases, as compared with 13,003 during 1934, an increase of 1,526.

Petitions to the United States Board of Tax Appeals were filed during 1935 in 4,540 tax-year cases, as compared with 5,347 during 1934, a decrease of 807.

As of June 30, 1935, there were pending in Washington 29,547 returns for 1933 and prior years, as compared with a total of 27,333 returns for 1932 and prior years on June 30, 1934, an increase of 2,214.

As of June 30, 1935, 336,659 returns for the years 1933 and prior years were on hand in field offices, as compared with a balance of 290,916 on June 30, 1934, an increase of 45,743.

On June 30, 1935, the pending balance in the field was 356,906 returns for all years, as compared with a balance of 310,566 on June 30, 1934, an increase of 46,340.

As of June 30, 1935, the balance of original audits involving the years 1922 to 1928 was 245, as compared with 307 on June 30, 1934, a decrease of 62.

During the year ended June 30, 1935, a total of 567,298 returns was sent to the field, as compared with a total of 607,964 forwarded during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934, a decrease of 40,666.

The field forces disposed of a total of 520,958 returns during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, as compared with a total of 527,517 returns disposed of in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934, a decrease of 6,559.

Changes in policy, procedure, and organization

During September 1934 a committee of internal-revenue agents in charge met in Washington and reviewed the organization of and procedure in the field divisions of the Income Tax Unit. Based on the recommendations of this committee, Income Tax Unit Orders Nos. 297 to 301, inclusive, were issued November 16, 1934. These orders prescribed a standardized organization for the internal-revenue agents' field divisions of the Income Tax Unit, provided for uniform methods in the assignment of income-tax returns for verification and the preparation of reports by agents upon the income-tax liability of taxpayers, defined certain classes of work performed by the revenue agents, established uniform methods to govern the preparation of monthly production reports and annual efficiency ratings, and revised the descriptions of all positions in the field service.

Effective May 1, 1935, the Valuation Division was reorganized and its name changed to the Engineering and Valuation Division. The Oil and Gas Section and the Mining Section were combined and designated as the Natural Resources Section. The Timber Section was abolished and its work pertaining to timber cases transferred to the Natural Resources Section. A section designated as the Public Utilities Section was established and charged with the responsibility of handling all valuation problems involved in public utility and railroad cases. The duties and responsibilities of the Appraisal Section and the Securities Section were not changed. This reorganization was necessary in order to accomplish a better arrangement for management.

Effective as of the close of business June 30, 1935, that portion of the territory of the upper New York division embraced in the fourteenth collection district of New York, with the exception of Bronx and Westchester Counties, was assigned to the Buffalo division. The change relieves the upper New York division agent in charge of certain extraterritorial responsibilities, permitting his giving full attention to the heavy duties of the New York City area.

Training schools for 300 agents appointed May 1, 1935, were established in the Brooklyn, Chicago, Cleveland, Dallas, Detroit, Newark, second New York, upper New York, Philadelphia, and San Francisco divisions. Two experienced agents from the division in which a school was located were assigned as instructors. The course of instruction was composed of two principal parts, one covering income-tax law and regulations and the other the preparation of revenue agents' reports.

The work of the instructors was supplemented by a series of lectures by representatives of the Assistant General Counsel's Office and the Special Adjustment Section of the Income Tax Unit. Selected revenue agents also lectured upon specialized subjects. Revenue agents in charge discussed administrative aspects of the service from time to time. The course will be repeated for approximately 450 additional agents beginning July 1, 1935. The 750 men appointed and inducted into the service as revenue agents are especially well equipped to undertake the duties of the office. By the employment of these men it is intended to expand the field work and to perform a more thorough-going job. An important aspect of the program will be a more vigorous effort to settle tax cases in the field thus avoiding litigation and saving costs to both the taxpayer and the Government.

During the year a committee of revenue agents and employees of the Bureau in Washington was assembled in Washington to revise the old field manual and to develop a new income-tax manual. The present field or revenue agents' manual was prepared during the years 1926 to 1928 and it has not been kept current. The effort of the committee will be to develop an income-tax manual which will adequately describe both Washington and field procedure. This is considered a forward step of great importance in connection with the expansion program, and has for one of its major purposes the plan of promoting a better understanding and accomplishing closer cooperation between Washington and field offices.

Depreciation.—Depreciation deductions claimed by taxpayers were closely examined during the year. As a result of this attention there was disallowed during the 6-month period from January 1 to June 30, 1935, inclusive, $144,040,964 in depreciation deductions taken by taxpayers. Additional tax resulting from such disallowances was recommended in the amount of $17,958,207, of which $12,516,056 was agreed to by the taxpayers. For the full fiscal year the total amount disallowed is estimated to be $288,081,928, the additional tax $35,916,414, and the amount agreed upon $25,032,112.

Excess-profits tax.—Under the provisions of section 702 of the Revenue Act of 1934, which are similar to the provisions of section 216 of the National Industrial Recovery Act, as amended, there is imposed upon the net income of every corporation for each income-tax taxable year ending after June 30, 1934, the first year in respect of which it is taxable under the capital stock tax provisions of section 702, an excess-profits tax equivalent to 5 percent of that portion of its net income which is in excess of 12½ percent of the adjusted declared value of its capital stock as of the close of its preceding income-tax taxable year.

Regulations relating to the excess-profits tax imposed by section 702 of the Revenue Act of 1934 were issued in the form of a Treasury Decision (T. D. 4469, published in Cumulative Bulletin XIII-2, p. 110, and in Regulations 86, p. 408).

The duties of determining the excess-profits tax and passing upon claims for exemption from the capital stock tax are being performed by the Income Tax Unit. The determination of excess-profits tax liability is made in conjunction with the corporation income tax. Duplicate capital stock tax returns filed by corporations are assembled for this purpose with the taxpayers' income and excess-profits tax returns (form 1120). In view of the fact that the declared value of the capital stock of a corporation for the year ended June 30, 1934, is the original declared value, which under the statute may not be changed, the process of determining the excess-profits tax liability is merely a matter of computation, after the taxable net income has been finally determined.

In the administration of section 702 of the Revenue Act of 1934, no difficult problems have as yet arisen in the review of excess-profits tax returns. However, the returns in which this feature is of major importance are with the field forces for examination and report.

Claims for exemption from capital stock tax filed in connection with 1933 capital stock tax returns have been considerably reduced since the close of the last fiscal year. As the exemption from capital stock tax is based upon exemption from income tax, it becomes necessary first to determine an organization's status for income-tax purposes. Approximately 2,700 cases are now under consideration with several thousand additional cases yet to be received in connection with claims filed with 1934 capital stock tax returns.

Excise tax on dividends.—While the provisions of section 213 of the National Industrial Recovery Act imposing a 5 percent tax on dividends were terminated by proclamation of the President on December 31, 1933, there was collected during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1935, $523,685 in additional tax imposed upon returns already filed and $303,787 upon delinquent returns which were ordered to be filed.

It is interesting to note that in the assessment of additional tax 444 assessments were made against payor corporations in the amount of $408,800, and that 8,176 assessments were made directly against the stockholders of one payor corporation in the amount of $114,885.

A comparison was made between the dividend returns and dividends reported on corporation returns for the period June 16 to December 31, 1933. This comparison resulted in the filing of 1,498 nontaxable and 1,970 taxable returns reporting delinquent tax in the amount of $303,787. Since only 41,425 taxable returns were voluntarily filed by payor corporations, this represents a 5 percent increase in the number of taxable returns.

During the fiscal year 1,203 claims were allowed in the amount of $128,030 and 447 claims were rejected in the amount of $163,848.

Publication of income and related statistics.—The major research projects and statistical compilations prepared during the year were informative data designed to provide basic information in connection with problems of taxation and studies of economic conditions. Tables were compiled from individual and corporation income-tax returns by geographical areas and economic classifications showing sources of income and deductions and certain types of tax-exempt income, also assets and liabilities of corporations by industrial divisions and by size of total assets classes.

Analytical compilations presenting the economic significance of the estate-tax and gift-tax returns as a phase of the Federal tax structure were prepared showing the principal forms of property left by decedents which were reported for taxation on the Federal estate-tax returns and the principal forms of property reported by donors on gift-tax returns.

These data were made available in "Statistics of Income for 1932," compiled from returns filed in 1933, and, for income tax returns only, in the preliminary report "Statistics of Income for 1933," compiled from returns filed to August 31, 1934.

Numerous compilations of the basic data provided by the returns were prepared for the confidential use of several departments of the Government, the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, and many of the recently created recovery administrations. Tabulations were also prepared for State governments and quasi-public organizations.

MISCELLANEOUS TAX UNIT

The Miscellaneous Tax Unit is concerned with the administration of all taxes other than the income and excess-profits taxes and the taxes applicable to alcoholic beverages. The organization consists of six divisions, the titles of which are indicative of the general type of taxes administered in the respective divisions. Although certain taxes, such as the tobacco, occupational, stamp, excise, and estate taxes, have been a part of the Federal tax structure for many years, other taxes, such as the processing and related taxes imposed under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, the tax on transfers of interests in silver bullion, taxes on the refining and production of crude petroleum, certain new excise taxes, and a more involved capital stock tax, have been the result of recent legislation and have increased greatly the volume of work in the Miscellaneous Tax Unit.

The number of miscellaneous tax returns filed during the year amounted to 2,148,218, and 141,021 claims for the refund or abatement of taxes were filed. Conferences held with taxpayers or their representatives numbered 6,764, and 210,800 letters and 151,522 form letters were dispatched.

Estate Tax Division

The Estate Tax Division is concerned with the administration of the estate and gift taxes imposed under the provisions of the various revenue acts.

Collections of estate tax for the year amounted to $140,440,682, an increase $36,455,394 over the collections for the preceding year, and the number of taxable returns increased approximately 2 percent. Gift-tax collections amounted to $71,671,277, and exceeded collections for the previous year by $62,518,201. The increase in the yield from the gift tax resulted from taxable transfers of property valued at $505,844,720, as compared with the transfers of property valued at $101,792,574 made during the previous year. In addition to the estate and gift taxes actually collected, deficiencies in the amount of $21,742,842 were asserted in 242 cases and collection withheld pending a review of appeals filed with the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

Examination of returns.—All returns of estate tax filed for resident decedents are referred to a field force of revenue agents for appropriate investigation and report. Estate-tax returns filed for non-resident decedents and gift-tax returns are investigated in the field at the direction of the Miscellaneous Tax Unit in Washington. During the year there were reports of investigation received in Washington in 10,951 estate-tax cases, as compared with 8,928 for the preceding year, and 1,923 gift-tax cases, as compared with 1,440 for the preceding year. The increase is attributable in part to the addition of 11 agents to the field force and in part to an improvement in the field procedure. There were 13,133 estate-tax returns received in the Bureau during the year, as compared with 11,210 for the prior year, an increase of about 17 percent. A total of 11,410 gift-tax returns were filed, which was more than three times the number of returns for the prior year.

As a result of the audit of estate-tax returns by the Bureau at Washington, deficiencies in tax amounting to $19,209,109 were assessed in 55.4 percent of the estate-tax cases closed, as compared with $13,185,550, representing the deficiencies in tax assessed in 52.5 percent of the cases closed in the prior year. Deficiencies in gift tax were assessed in the amount of $345,384 in 2.4 percent of the cases closed, as compared with $138,098 representing deficiencies in 2.3 percent of the cases closed for the previous year. Protests were filed against the deficiencies proposed in 1,374 estate-tax cases and 107 gift-tax cases.

The table which follows summarizes the results of the examination and audit of the estate-tax and gift-tax returns:

In addition to the above, taxes of $169,074.98 were abated as uncollectible in 27 estate-tax cases. Gift taxes of $3,836.29 were abated as uncollectible in 2 gift-tax cases.

Tobacco Division

The Tobacco Division is responsible for the administration and enforcement of the laws imposing taxes upon and regulating the manufacture, sale, and exportation of tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes, and cigarette papers and tubes. This Division is not concerned with the taxes imposed on the processing of tobacco under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, or on the sale of leaf tobacco under the Tobacco Act of June 28, 1934.

Collections of tobacco taxes for the year amounted to $459,178,625. This amount represents the largest yearly collection from this source since the first internal revenue taxes in 1862. The collections show an increase of $34,009,728, or approximately 8 percent, over the collections for the previous year, and were $8,839,565 more than the previous high collections in 1930. The effect of the depression became apparent in the tobacco industry during the year 1931, when a decrease in the collections was noted for the first time since 1921.

A detailed analysis and comparison of the tobacco taxes collected during the fiscal years 1934 and 1935 follows:

The tax on small cigarettes amounted to $385,459,571, which represents an increase of $35,797,625, or 10.2 percent, over the previous year, and also represents 84 percent of the total tobacco taxes collected during the year.

Taxes were collected on cigarette papers and tubes during the year as follows: 11,693,440 packages of cigarette papers of domestic origin, 59,448,000 packages of cigarette papers imported, 24,827,000 tubes of domestic origin and 36,613,000 tubes imported. The total collections of taxes on cigarette papers and tubes amounted to $976,068, which represents an increase of $3,014 over the collections from this source during the preceding year. Packages of cigarette papers containing not more than 25 papers each are not subject to the tax, and during the year there were removed from the place of manufacture 2,684,926, 917 such packages, and 2,482,499 packages were imported; 26,170, 100 cigarette tubes were removed from the place of manufacture and were exempt from tax by reason of use by cigarette manufacturers.

During the year, 1,043 permits were issued for the withdrawal of tobacco products tax-free for use of the United States. These permits covered 21,399,000 cigarettes and 266,576 pounds of manufactured tobacco.

An analysis of claims for the refund and abatement of tobacco taxes, for the redemption of tobacco stamps, and for drawback, is shown in the table which follows:

The sum of $1,120,583, representing claims allowed for redemption of stamps, includes the following: Stamps which were rendered useless, $877,937; stamps for which the owner alleged he had no further use, $6,111; and the value of stamps affixed to packages of tobacco products withdrawn from the market by the manufacturer or importer, $236,535.

During the year, manufacturers of tobacco products withdrew from their factories without the payment of tax, in accordance with section 317 of the Tariff Act of 1930, 199,923,740 small cigarettes, 1,000 large cigarettes, 2,500 large cigars, and 996 pounds of tobacco and snuff, which were delivered direct to vessels for use as sea stores beyond the jurisdiction of the internal-revenue laws of the United States. Withdrawals for this purpose in the preceding year amounted to 166,879,380 small cigarettes and 233 pounds of tobacco and snuff. The tax-free withdrawals of small cigarettes and tobacco and snuff for delivery to bonded tobacco sea stores warehouses amounted to 410,526,700 small cigarettes and 28,828 pounds of tobacco and snuff, as compared with 360,129,180 small cigarettes and 23,224 pounds of tobacco and snuff during the previous year. Withdrawals from bonded tobacco sea stores warehouses for delivery to vessels amounted to 399,892,600 small cigarettes and 29,366 pounds of tobacco and snuff, as compared with 359,331,360 small cigarettes and 22,039 pounds of tobacco and snuff during the preceding year. There are 21 such warehouses now in operation.

Silver Tax Division

The Silver Tax Division was organized in July 1934 for the purpose of administering the tax imposed under the Silver Purchase Act of 1934, approved June 19, 1934. This act provides for the imposition of a tax equal to 50 percent of the net profit realized on the transfer of an interest in silver bullion. The tax is payable by stamp, and is generally subject to the same provisions of law as are applicable to stamp taxes imposed under Title VIII, Schedule A, of the Revenue Act of 1926. An exemption is provided in the case of transfers by the United States Government, of transfers by deposit or delivery at a United States mint in connection with the coinage of silver, and of transfers by persons regularly engaged in the business of furnishing silver for industrial, professional, or artistic uses. In general, the tax attaches to all transfers of interests in silver, not specifically exempted, which are made by banks, brokers, manufacturers, miners, producers, refiners, dealers, and individuals.

Collections of silver tax for the year amounted to $1,149,390, and adjustments by way of refunds and redemptions to $4,770. At the close of the year there were pending before the Silver Tax Division 76 claims for the refund or abatement of silver taxes or for the redemption of silver-tax stamps, and 266 claims of this character had been adjusted by the allowance of 216 claims and the rejection of 50 claims.

The duties of the Division included the preparation of Treasury decisions modifying the existing regulations relating to the silver tax, and the preparation of various rulings with respect to that tax. As a part of the routine work, investigations were conducted in connection with the books and records of 59 brokers engaged in negotiating transfers of interests in silver bullion.

Sales Tax Division

Among the taxes administered in the Sales Tax Division are the manufacturers' excise taxes, the documentary stamp taxes, the occupational special taxes, and the taxes applicable to electrical energy, admissions and dues, telegraph, telephone, cable and radio messages, checks, safe-deposit boxes, narcotics, pistols and revolvers, and the transportation of oil by pipe line. During the current year the Division assumed the administration of the additional taxes imposed by recent legislation upon the processing of coconut and other vegetable oils, the production and refining of crude petroleum and the transfer of machine guns. The yield from the taxes administered by the Sales Tax Division amounted to $491,477,139, a decrease in collections from the previous year of $61,636,702. Among the reasons for the decrease in the collections are reduction in the rate of tax applicable to gasoline from 1½ to 1 cent a gallon, the repeal of the tax on checks as of January 1, 1935, and elimination of the tax on articles made of fur selling for less than $75 and on articles of jewelry selling for less than $25.

Certain of the manufacturers' excise taxes and other taxes imposed under the Revenue Act of 1932, which would have terminated on June 30 or July 31, 1935, were continued in effect until June 30, or July 31, 1937, by Public Resolution No. 36, Seventy-fourth Congress, approved June 28, 1935.

A comparison of the various taxes collected under the direction of the Sales Tax Division during the fiscal years 1934 and 1935 is shown in the following table:

¹ Exclusive of the capital stock tax, which was included in the table on p. 20 in the annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934.

Manufacturers' excise taxes.—During the year the Bureau completed its determination of the rates or fair charges to be used by pipe-line carriers all over the United States for the purpose of computing the correct tax due on the transportation of crude petroleum, and liquid products thereof, by pipe line. These determinations enabled the Bureau to close all outstanding cases, resulted in the assessment and collection of a large amount of additional tax, and established the basis by which taxpayers will be guided in reporting and paying the tax on future transactions. In cooperation with the United States Bureau of Standards and representatives of the petroleum industry, the Bureau adopted as part of its regulations a uniform and acceptable definition of what is commonly or commercially known as "gasoline," which enables taxpayers to determine the taxability of their product prior to sale or use.

Investigations conducted by a special field force operating under the supervision of the Miscellaneous Tax Unit have produced excellent results in connection with the taxes on lubricating oil and gasoline, as well as in connection with the taxes on automobiles, tires and tubes, furs, jewelry, mechanical refrigerators, radios, and various other articles. During the year, this field force reported for assessment a total of $6,127,089 in delinquent or additional manufacturers' and miscellaneous excise taxes, penalties, and interest.

A revision of Regulations 44, relating to the taxes on gasoline, lubricating oil, etc., was issued to give effect to amendments made to certain sections of the Revenue Act of 1932.

Documentary stamp taxes.—Many questions concerning new and difficult problems arose during the year in connection with the documentary stamp taxes. The large number of reorganizations of banks and other corporations involving issues and transfers of stocks and bonds and conveyances of realty, the recent amendments to the bankruptcy laws and other statutes concerning reorganizations, and various proceedings in liquidation and foreclosure, produced an increase in the volume of correspondence and the necessity for many rulings relative to documentary stamp taxes. Inasmuch as the activities of several Federal agencies affect stocks, bonds, and deeds of conveyance, frequent contact with such agencies has been necessary during the past year in connection with the documentary stamp tax. Information furnished by the Securities and Exchange Commission relative to the issuance and sale of securities has been of considerable assistance in the assertion of stamp-tax liabilities incurred in connection with such transactions.

As a result of the activities of the augmented field force of revenue agents and deputy collectors assigned to documentary stamp tax investigations, a large amount of stamp taxes has been assessed, which through ignorance, oversight, or neglect on the part of the taxpayers involved had not been paid.

Playing cards.—There were 74 manufacturers, repackers, or importers of playing cards registered during the year, and their product amounted to 47,880,952 packs of cards, as compared with 46,419,114 packs during the preceding year. A special effort has been made, through investigation, to suppress the increasing volume of sales of playing cards by street peddlers in the larger cities of the country without having the 10-cent revenue stamp attached to each pack of cards, as required by law.

Oleomargarine; adulterated, processed, or renovated butter.—There was a marked increase in the production of oleomargarine during the year. Extensive violations of the Oleomargarine Act were uncovered, and it was found that the violators have effected a wide distribution of their product, operating to the detriment of the legitimate industry. As a result of the investigations, assessments of oleomargarine taxes and penalties were made and a number of convictions for violations of the law obtained in the courts.

The regulations relating to the tax on oleomargarine and adulterated, processed, or renovated butter are in the course of revision, the last revision having been made in 1925.

There were produced during the fiscal year 2,904,971 pounds of colored and 350,915,555 pounds of uncolored oleomargarine, as compared with 2,689,095 pounds of colored and 240,497,599 pounds of uncolored oleomargarine produced in the preceding year, reflecting an increase of 8 percent in colored oleomargarine and 45 percent in uncolored oleomargarine. At the close of the year there were 43 manufacturers of oleomargarine engaged in business and during the year 13,261 returns were filed by manufacturers and wholesale dealers in oleomargarine. There were six manufacturers of processed or renovated butter in business, who produced a total of 1,844,561 pounds of processed or renovated butter, as compared with the production of 1,219,166 pounds in the prior year. The withdrawals of oleomargarine tax-free for export amounted to 1,408,827 pounds, as compared with withdrawals for such purpose during the preceding year of 1,594,168 pounds. The tax-free withdrawals of colored oleomargarine for the use of the United States amounted to 680,921 pounds during the current year, as compared with withdrawals of 631,665 pounds for this purpose during the previous year.

Mixed flour.—There were 25 makers, packers, or repackers of mixed flour engaged in the business during the year, who made, packed, or repacked a total of 16,358,536 pounds of mixed flour, an increase of 1,898,885 pounds over the preceding year.

Firearms.—The National Firearms Act, which became effective July 26, 1934, required the registration of all firearms as defined by the act on or before September 24, 1934, and a report of all transfers of such firearms made on or after the effective date of the act. During the year 25,261 machine guns and other firearms subject to the provisions of the act were registered with the Bureau and transfers of 4,686 firearms recorded. In the first case to be tried under the National Firearms Act, the act was held constitutional in a decision rendered by the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, under date of June 4, 1935 (United States v. Joseph H. Adams et al.). Collections of taxes under the National Firearms Act (including the special taxes) amounted to $8,015.

Narcotics.—The collection of taxes on narcotics (including the special taxes) amounted to $580,613, representing an increase over the previous year of $85,343. The situation with respect to the registration of schools, colleges, and universities, and the liabilities for tax under the Harrison Narcotic Law, as amended, was clarified by appropriate office ruling.

Offers in compromise.—There were on hand at the close of the year ended June 30, 1934, 4,865 offers in compromise, aggregating $465,171, submitted in connection with various miscellaneous taxes. Nine thousand four hundred and eighty-nine offers, aggregating $474,818, were received during the current fiscal year; 6,990 offers, in the amount of $115,890, were accepted; 1,518 offers, amounting to $182,870, were rejected; and 9 offers, amounting to $445, were withdrawn. At the close of the year there were on hand 5,837 offers, amounting to $640,783.

Assessments.—Prior to the beginning of the current fiscal year the assessment procedure was revised in order to facilitate the audit of the miscellaneous tax lists and to make available for immediate collection the taxes due on certain returns which were filed without remittances. Likewise, necessary changes in procedure with respect to the assertion of penalties for the delinquent filing of tax returns were put into effect. A more equitable method of computing the interest due under the several revenue acts was also established during the year.

A total of 1,131,858 items, representing $737,974,518, was approved on 2,410 miscellaneous assessment lists, which included original and additional assessments of all miscellaneous internal-revenue taxes except silver tax and the processing or related taxes. The additional assessments, as a result of office audit and field investigations, represented a total of $29,847,939. The interest assessed on the miscellaneous tax lists amounted to $4,174,608.¹

Credits.—There were on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year 8,269 credit cases, involving $3,139,846. During the year, 11,763 cases, involving $4,990,122, were received, and 15,519 cases, involving $6,259,599, were disposed of, leaving on hand at the end of the year 4,513 sales-tax credit cases, representing $1,870,370.

¹ As a matter of administrative convenience, the Sales Tax Division completes assessments, schedules, claims and certificates of overassessment, and passes on offers in compromise for the Estate Tax Division, the Tobacco Division, and the Capital Stock Tax Division.

Capital Stock Tax Division

The Capital Stock Tax Division was created on January 1, 1935, succeeding the Capital Stock Tax Section of the Sales Tax Division. The Division was organized following the enactment of section 701 of the Revenue Act of 1934, which made the administration of the capital-stock tax a permanent and major function of the Bureau. In addition to the administration of the capital stock tax imposed by the Revenue Act of 1934, the Division is also concerned with the tax imposed by section 215 of the National Industrial Recovery Act and with claims for refund of capital stock taxes, penalties, and interest paid under the 1924 Revenue Act and prior revenue acts.

Collections of capital stock tax during the fiscal year 1935 amounted to $91,508,121, an increase of $11,339,777, or approximately 14 per cent, over the collections for the preceding year.

During the year returns were received as follows: 382,394 taxable and 129,099 nontaxable domestic returns, 311 taxable and 169 nontaxable foreign returns, a total of 511,973 returns, as compared with 486,897 for the previous year. As a result of the audit of the returns, 5,673 assessments, involving a total of $894,807, were made.

At the beginning of the year 350,022 returns remained on hand awaiting audit, which, with the 511,973 returns received during the year, made a total of 861,995 to be accounted for. As the result of intensive work in connection with the audit and disposition of the cases, 738,163 were examined and closed during the 12-month period. The remaining cases will be closed as promptly as possible in order to permit the disposition of the 1935 returns when they become available for audit.

A summary of claims relating to capital stock taxes received and adjusted during the year is shown in the following table:

There were pending in the courts on June 30, 1935, 12 suits for recovery of $1,550,853 capital stock tax, and $846,054 interest, paid under the Revenue Act of 1924 and prior revenue acts.

A Treasury decision amending article 63 of Regulations 64 (1934 edition), outlining the manner of determining the adjusted declared value for 1935 and subsequent years, in the case of foreign corporations, was issued. There was also prepared a Treasury decision designed to make the treatment of the subject matter of Chapter III and articles 71 to 83, inclusive, of Chapter VIII of the regulations relating to the capital stock tax conform as nearly as practicable with the treatment of the same subject matter in Regulations 86, governing the administration of the Federal income tax under the Revenue Act of 1934. This Treasury decision also eliminated from Articles 84, 89, and 95 of Regulations 64 references to certain item numbers which are applicable only to the return, form 707, for the taxable year ended June 30, 1934.

The Division has made substantial progress in promulgating rulings on the great variety of questions that have been raised in connection with the provisions of the statute. Section 701 (f) of the Revenue Act of 1934 is not only entirely novel with respect to the administration of the capital stock tax but the adjustments to the original declared value required under that provision of the law are quite involved. Because of this fact, many problems have been presented by corporations and their representatives for rulings with respect to the application of the statute to treasury stock transactions, mergers, consolidations, reorganizations, issuance of debentures by State banks to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, issuance of preferred stock by national banks to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, dissolution of corporations within a fiscal year, and with respect to many other difficult questions.

Processing Tax Division

The Processing Tax Division is concerned with the administration of the processing taxes, compensating taxes, and floor stock taxes imposed under the provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, the tax on the ginning of cotton imposed under the Bankhead Cotton Act, approved April 21, 1934, and the tax on the sale of leaf tobacco imposed under the Kerr Tobacco Act, approved June 28, 1934.

Two new basic agricultural commodities, namely, peanuts and rice, were included within the scope of the Agricultural Adjustment Act during the year. The processing and compensating taxes were made applicable to peanuts, effective October 1, 1934, and to rice, effective April 1, 1935. Floor stocks of articles processed from peanuts and rice were not taxed. A number of changes affecting the processing and related taxes were brought about by the enactment of amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the promulgation of regulations by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to the act. Changes were made in the rates and scope of the tax with respect to certain classifications of tobacco and also with respect to the taxes on the processing of hogs and of sugar beets and sugar cane and the products thereof. Refunds were authorized with respect to the tax on cotton used in the manufacture of large cotton bags.

The regulations relating to the collection of compensating taxes under the provisions of section 15 (e) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act were amended by Treasury Decision 4501, effective December 29, 1934. The collection of the compensating taxes was facilitated by a provision in Treasury Decision 4501 to the effect that such collection should be made by collectors of customs.

By a proclamation of the President made under the authority of section 10 (f) of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, the processing and related taxes with respect to sugar were made applicable to the Philippine Islands, effective September 12, 1934, thus widening the geographic scope of the act with respect to this single commodity. The Bureau established an office in Manila, and regulations and forms have been printed in Spanish for distribution in the islands.

Tax on the ginning of cotton.—The collections of tax on the ginning of cotton imposed under the Cotton Control Act amounted to $1,110,875 during the year. This tax was paid by approximately 13,000 ginnermen with respect to cotton for which tax-exemption certificates issued by the Secretary of Agriculture were not turned in to the ginnermen by producers of the cotton. The Bureau issued and distributed during the year to ginnermen of cotton approximately 14,000,000 bale tags and an equivalent number of certificates of tagging to be used as evidence of the payment of the tax or as evidence of exemption from the payment of tax.

Leaf tobacco sales tax.—Taxes amounting to $3,231,375 were collected under the Kerr-Smith Tobacco Control Act on the first bona fide sale of certain types of tobacco, the producers of which were not entitled to tax-payment warrants issued by the Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to the provisions of the act. This tax was collected at 25 percent of the sale price of the tobacco, a rate established by proclamation of the Secretary of Agriculture. Effective July 1, 1935, this rate will be fixed at 33½ percent of the sale price, the maximum rate now provided for in the act. Adhesive stamps, styled as tobacco sales-tax stamps, are provided by the Bureau to be used as evidence of payment of the tax.

Claims.—The Agricultural Adjustment Act provides for the refunding or crediting of taxes under certain circumstances other than those which obtain where the taxes were erroneously or illegally assessed or collected. The greatest volume of claims is filed in accordance with the provisions of the act which permit a refund or credit of taxes paid with respect to articles delivered to organizations for charitable distribution or use, to State or Federal welfare organizations, and for exportation. An analysis of the classes of claims Assessments.—Assessments of 697,992 items, representing a tax liability of $588,218,915, were made on the processing tax lists. Included in the amount thus assessed is $4,898,517 representing 5,652 additional assessments made as a result of an office audit or field investigation. Jeopardy assessments were made in 88 cases involving 266 items totaling $799,645. The interest assessed on the processing-tax lists amounted to $582,684.

ACCOUNTS AND COLLECTIONS UNIT

There were filed in collectors' offices during the fiscal year 1935 8,313,342 tax returns, compared with 9,144,268 for the fiscal year 1934, a decrease of 830,926. Of the total returns filed in 1935, there were 5,295,352 income-tax returns, compared with 4,933,376 filed during the previous year, an increase of 361,976.

After having taken the necessary administrative action, collectors of internal revenue during the fiscal year transmitted to the Bureau or otherwise disposed of 238,251 claims, as compared with 151,470 claims in 1934, an increase of 86,781. The number of claims on hand in collectors' offices at the end of the fiscal year was 7,481, compared with 6,878 at the close of the previous fiscal year.

A total of 10,432,005,552 revenue stamps, valued at $941,713,682, was issued to collectors of internal revenue and the Postmaster General, compared with 9,351,968,114 stamps, valued at $833,901,971, issued during the fiscal year 1934. Revenue stamps returned by collectors of internal revenue and by the Postmaster General, and credited in their accounts, amounted to $45,068,828. The returned stamps were of various kinds and denominations, including partly used books and stamps for which there was no sale. Twelve applications were allowed for restamping packages from which the original stamps had been lost, mutilated, or destroyed.

During the year, 60,268 income-tax returns were investigated and 4,252,479 information returns were verified. At the close of business June 30, 1935, there were outstanding in the 64 collection districts for field investigation 6,856 income-tax returns, compared with 11,560 as of June 30, 1934. The number of information returns on hand June 30, 1935, was 1,872,991, compared with 1,702,691 as of June 30, 1934. On June 30, 1935, there were 62,132 warrants in the hands of the collectors' field forces for collection, compared with 52,425 as of June 30, 1934.

An average of 2,205 deputy collectors made a total of 576,120 revenue-producing investigations, including the serving of warrants for distraint, compared with 532,609 such investigations made by an average of 1,990 deputy collectors in the preceding fiscal year. A total of 118,221 warrants for distraint was served, which resulted in the collection of $34,941,480. The total amount collected and reported for assessment by field deputy collectors was $81,001,961, as compared with $57,491,799 in the previous fiscal year. The average number of investigations made per deputy and the average amount of tax collected and reported for assessment were 264 and $36,735, respectively, as compared with 264 and $28,896, respectively, for the fiscal year 1934. The average salary of these deputy collectors during the fiscal year was $1,970, and the average travel expense was $463. It will be seen that for every $2,433 invested in the services of a deputy collector $36,735 was returned to the Government. The total collections and assessments for the fiscal year 1935, namely, $81,001,961, represent the largest amount produced by the field deputy collectors since 1920, when the present system of keeping production records went into effect, and, no doubt, the greatest in the history of the Bureau.

The supervisors of accounts and collections submitted 105 reports during the year covering their examinations of the accounts of collectors of internal revenue, compared with 100 reports submitted during the fiscal year 1934. Every collector's office was examined at least once and all but 24 of the collectors' offices were examined twice during the year. Six new collectors and eight acting collectors were installed.

At the close of the fiscal year 1935, 4,715 employees, including collectors, comprised the authorized force on regular internal revenue work at an annual basic expense of $9,741,900. At the close of the previous year there were 4,601 employees authorized at an annual expense of $9,654,580. The expansion of the force during 1935 was due to the increased volume of work in connection with liquor stamp sales and miscellaneous taxes in the collectors' offices.

During the year a total of $211,308 was expended from the internal revenue allotment for the employment of temporary personnel, compared with $163,475 during the preceding year. The increase of $47,833 in expenditures for temporary assistance was due to the rush of work incident to the income-tax filing period, emergency conditions which arose in connection with special drives for payment of delinquent taxes, and various changes in the revenue laws.

The organization of the processing-tax divisions in collectors' offices was further strengthened to facilitate the collection of the processing, import compensating, and floor taxes imposed upon various agricultural commodities under the Agricultural Adjustment Act. A force of 1,606 permanent and temporary office and field employees was authorized to handle this work in the various collection districts, and during the year the sum of $2,397,707 was expended for salaries of such employees.

A special section was set up in each collector's office in cotton-producing districts to administer the tax-collection provisions of the Bankhead Cotton Control Act. Forces were organized to carry on this work and during the ginning season, when the work was at its peak, 391 permanent and temporary office and field employees were assigned to the several districts. The sum of $378,814 was expended for salaries of employees on the cotton-tax roll.

In order to carry out effectively the tax provisions of the Kerr-Smith Tobacco Control Act additional assistance was authorized in the several tobacco-producing districts. During the period when this work was at its peak 85 temporary office and field employees were employed, and the sum of $61,742 was expended for salaries of such employees during the year.

Through the cooperation of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration special projects were inaugurated in certain collection districts for the purpose of investigating evasions of manufacturers' excise taxes on jewelry, radios, furs, sporting goods, and cosmetics, and taxes on admissions, dues, and documentary stamps. The first project was started in the third New York collection district on November 1, 1934. Similar projects were subsequently inaugurated in the first and second New York collection districts, the Chicago, Milwaukee, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Buffalo districts, and recently projects were authorized in the Los Angeles and San Francisco districts. With approximately 800 workers engaged on these projects, $5,021,912 in taxes has been collected or reported for assessment. In addition to the workers assigned to these investigations, approximately 330 relief workers were assigned to the district supervisors, Alcohol Tax Unit, for the purpose of conducting investigations and making inspections of retail liquor dealers.

During the period from November 1, 1934, to June 16, 1935, under the provisions of Executive Order No. 6166, as amended, the function of disbursing was transferred from the offices of 63 collectors of internal revenue (except offer in compromise special deposit accounts), 37 internal-revenue agents in charge and 15 district supervisors located within the continental United States to 20 regional offices of the Division of Disbursement, Treasury Department. This transfer of disbursing functions involved considerable modification of procedure.

The Disbursement Accounting Division administratively examined and recorded 1,413 monthly accounts of collectors of internal revenue, internal-revenue agents in charge, district supervisors, including the Philippine branch of the district of Maryland and the internal revenue salary payments made by the collector of customs, San Juan, P. R., comprising a total of 107,528 vouchers, in addition to which 3,524 expense vouchers of employees and 11,836 vouchers covering passenger and freight transportation and miscellaneous expenses were audited and passed to the chief disbursing officer, Treasury Department, or General Accounting Office for payment. The monthly pay rolls of the Bureau were examined and recorded currently.

ALCOHOL TAX UNIT

Collections from the liquor taxes in 1935 amounted to $411,021,772, an increase of $152,110,440 over the previous year. The revenue obtained from liquor taxes for 1935 constituted 14.8 percent of the total internal-revenue collections, compared with 11.3 percent for 1934. Approximately two-thirds of the increase in liquor-tax collections was accounted for by distilled spirits, the revenue from which increased by more than 100 percent over 1934.

On June 30, 1935, the following legitimate producers or distributors of alcohol and alcoholic beverages, or users of tax-free alcohol, were under the supervision of the Alcohol Tax Unit:

Distilleries:
Alcohol.....	36
Whisky, rum, and gin.....	89
Brandy.....	137
Warehouses:
Alcohol.....	70
Whisky, rum, gin, and brandy.....	137
Wineries.....	1,107

Bonded dealers in specially denatured alcohol.....	68
Bonded manufacturers using specially denatured alcohol.....	4,155
Hospitals, laboratories, and educational institutions using tax-free alcohol.....	5,966

Procedure Division.—This Division is responsible for planning and developing procedure for the Alcohol Tax Unit and coordinating the procedure of the headquarters office with that of the various offices of the district supervisors.

During the fiscal year, procedure was recommended which resulted in the transfer of the audit of reports of plants and warehouses and reports of Government officers assigned thereto to offices of district supervisors. A uniform system for auditing such reports was developed and manuals of procedure were prepared covering the audit of reports of whisky and brandy distilleries and warehouses, wineries, breweries, industrial-alcohol plants and warehouses, and manufacturers and users of denatured alcohol. The system, installed in 15 district offices, resulted in the elimination of the duplication of audit and a reduction of 50 percent in the cost of personnel in the Bonded Accounts Section.

The function of reviewing offers in compromise in connection with violations of internal-revenue laws relating to liquor, of preparing covering memorandum briefs, of scheduling such offers, and, after final action, notifying the proponents of the acceptance or rejection of the offers, was also transferred to the district officers. Detailed procedure was prepared for the guidance of these offices.

A study was made of all other procedure in the headquarters office and various divisions and sections were reorganized, resulting in economies in operation, more effective service, and a reduction of approximately $200,000 in total salaries.

Enforcement Division.—The Enforcement Division is responsible for the coordination of the activities of the Alcohol Tax Unit with other governmental agencies engaged upon related work. The Enforcement Division also plans and coordinates the enforcement functions of the 15 administrative districts, supervises the activities of the investigators, and provides for their general instruction.

The enforcement personnel was increased somewhat during the year, and on June 30, 1935, there were 1,448 investigators and 74 assistant district supervisors and investigators in charge. A concentrated attack was directed during the year against the illicit manufacture and traffic in non-tax-paid spirits, to the end that the legitimate liquor industry might be protected and a maximum amount of revenue collected therefrom.

During the fiscal year 15,712 stills were seized having an aggregate mash capacity of 2,853,739 gallons, and in connection therewith 21,373,107 gallons of mash were found and destroyed. Investigators also seized 863,375 gallons of spirits and 4,837 autos and trucks. The total appraised value of property seized amounted to $5,632,145. A total of 31,625 persons were arrested for Federal liquor law violations, of which 2,104 arrests were made by State and local officers on information furnished by investigators of the Alcohol Tax Unit. During the year 25,408 cases were reported to United States attorneys.

In addition to the general enforcement accomplishments, a specialized investigative effort has been directed at the larger syndicates trafficking in non-tax-paid spirits, with the result that a great many of the larger organizations in the leading metropolitan cities of the country have been placed under indictment.

The enforcement of the act of June 18, 1934, relating to substances used in the manufacture of distilled spirits, has brought about a very material reduction in the sale of corn sugar, brown sugar, black strap molasses, oak chips, and other materials generally used in making unlawful liquors. The laws requiring a stamp to be placed on bottles of distilled spirits, and authorizing the Secretary to impose regulations regarding bottles, also have aided materially in reducing transactions in unlawful liquors.

The Pardon and Parole Section of the Enforcement Division examines the records and reports and prepares abstracts of facts on all applications for Executive clemency (pardon, commutation of sentence, and remission of fine) and petitions for parole of persons convicted of violations of the internal-revenue laws relating to the traffic in distilled spirits. During the fiscal year, 282 applications for pardon and 2,841 applications for parole were examined and reports submitted. A total of 283 applications for pardon and 3,377 applications for parole were received.

Field Inspection Division.—A comprehensive program of instruction for storekeeper-gaugers was conducted during the year by field inspectors. This program combined theoretical and practical instruction and included preparation of a questionnaire covering the more pertinent requirements of laws and regulations applying to the control and operation of producing and processing plants, lecture courses conducted at night, and practical instruction conducted at the individual plants. The program has resulted in a distinct increase in the efficiency of the work performed by Government officers.

Outlines of procedure were prepared relative to distilleries and distillery warehouses, industrial-alcohol plants, alcohol bonded warehouses and denaturing plants, fruit-brandy distilleries, and rectifying plants. These procedures standardize the administrative examination of the notice, bond, plats, plans, and other pertinent documents connected with the original establishment of plants of the above types, and the major structural and operative changes in such plants. These procedures are the basis for the approval or disapproval by district supervisors, and also for final action by the Bureau. This program has resulted in the elimination of duplication of work, simplification of the work in both the Bureau and field, and reduction of personnel.

A retail liquor dealer section was established in each district, together with a comprehensive program of instruction for junior inspectors. This course covered classroom instruction in the pertinent requirements of the law, detailed instruction relative to inspection and compromise procedure, and practical training in the use of the Williams alcohol test set.

A new distillery procedure was initiated which transferred the major portion of the manual labor previously performed by Government officers to distillery employees and made possible the transfer of 133 storekeeper-gaugers from distillery supervision to the retail liquor dealer section.

All breweries throughout the United States installed beer meters on or before March 1, 1935. The tax was collected on the basis of meter readings for all fermented liquor transferred by pipe line for bottling. The racking meters are used as an additional check and safeguard over the revenue. The use of meters has resulted in a more accurate determination of tax, improved brewery supervision resulting in the release of approximately 100 storekeeper-gaugers for other duties, and greater freedom of operation for brewers.

A survey of all permissive inspections was made with a view to simplification and more economical inspections. The scope and frequency of inspections of all classes were changed. Each district was divided into inspection zones with all territory outside the metropolitan area divided into zones representing a 30-day inspection load for one inspector. This new program will make it possible to relieve approximately 160 inspectors for assignment to the retail liquor dealer section or as storekeeper-gaugers for distillery supervision.

Standard questionnaire forms were prepared to cover the following classes of inspections: Spot-check inspections of breweries, rectifying plants, and wholesale liquor dealers, and complete inspections of breweries, bonded wineries and bonded storerooms, industrial-alcohol plants, alcohol bonded warehouses and denaturing plants, distilleries, distillery, special, and general bonded warehouses, fruit brandy distilleries, manufacturers using specially denatured alcohol, and users of tax-free alcohol.

Laboratory Division.—The Laboratory Division comprises a chemical laboratory in Washington, D. C., and 14 branch laboratories located throughout the country. These laboratories perform all the chemical work for the Bureau of Internal Revenue and Bureau of Narcotics, as well as some work for the Federal Alcohol Control Administration and Bureau of Customs.

During the year, 83,701 samples were received in the branch laboratories, 26,902 more samples than were received during 1934. This substantial increase was undoubtedly due to more efficient and increased enforcement activities. The Washington laboratory examined 10,540 samples, an increase of 1,964 over the preceding year. The major part of the samples examined comprised distilled spirits, fermented liquors, denatured alcohol, toilet preparations, medicinal preparations, flavoring extracts, and narcotic drugs.

The chemists in the field laboratories investigate and inspect permittees where technical knowledge is valuable. The policy of using technically trained men in this work has been of great assistance to the administrative officers in the examination of seized illicit plants recovering potable alcohol from denatured alcohol and has prevented the issuance of permits to applicants who were not qualified or equipped to carry on legitimate chemical or technical operations requiring industrial alcohol.

Research work was carried on with the view to developing more efficient denaturants for the purpose of preventing the diversion of tax-free denatured alcohol to illegal uses, and a new specially denatured alcohol formula containing sucrose octa acetate was adopted for the manufacture of rubbing-alcohol compounds. During the past few years, substantial quantities of rubbing-alcohol compounds have been used for beverage purposes, but it is believed that the new denaturant will prevent their further beverage use.

Audit Division.—The Audit Division conducts the plant operation, tax accounting, assessment, claim, and compromise work of the headquarters office of the Alcohol Tax Unit. It supervises generally the work relating to the manufacture, storage, tax payment, sale, and use of alcohol, denatured alcohol, distilled spirits of all kinds, wines, and beer; and administers the provisions of the internal-revenue laws and the regulations pertaining thereto.

Alcohol.—During the fiscal year 1935, there were 180,645,920 proof gallons of alcohol produced at industrial alcohol plants, an increase of 15,542,338 proof gallons as compared with the preceding year.

Withdrawals of alcohol from warehouses upon payment of tax amounted to 16,990,972 proof gallons, an increase of 836,358 proof gallons as compared with the preceding year.

A total of 166,104,787 proof gallons of alcohol was withdrawn for tax-free purposes during the year, including withdrawals for denaturation, for export, and for the use of the United States, hospitals, laboratories, colleges, and other educational institutions. This is an increase of 26,106,879 proof gallons as compared with the quantity withdrawn tax free during the preceding year, and reflects the increased use of alcohol for industrial purposes.

Denatured alcohol.—During the fiscal year 1935 there were withdrawn from bond, free of tax, for denaturation 163,009,786 proof gallons of alcohol and rum, as compared with 136,887,896 proof gallons during the previous year.

There were 97,031,074 wine gallons of denatured alcohol produced during the year, of which 38,746,679 wine gallons were completely denatured and 58,284,395 wine gallons were specially denatured, as compared with 82,241,403 wine gallons of denatured alcohol produced during the previous fiscal year, of which 27,174,311 wine gallons were completely denatured and 55,067,092 wine gallons were specially denatured.

Fermented malt liquor.—During the year 1935, 45,228,605 barrels of fermented malt liquor were produced, as compared with 37,678,313 barrels produced during the preceding year. The production of cereal beverages containing less than one-half of 1 percent of alcohol by volume has been practically discontinued since the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. Only 4,226 barrels of such liquor were produced during the year.

Distilled spirits.—There were withdrawn tax-paid from distillery, general, and special bonded warehouses 58,083,021 taxable gallons of distilled spirits (including brandy tax-paid direct from fruit distilleries) other than alcohol, an increase of 35,636,399 gallons as compared with the quantity withdrawn tax-paid during the preceding year. This increase is partly due to the fact that prohibition was in effect more than 5 months of the fiscal year 1934.

Rectified products.—During the fiscal year 1935 there were 23,669,402 proof gallons of distilled spirits dumped for rectification and 23,093,758 proof gallons of rectified products were produced therefrom.

Assessments.—During the year, 15,401 reports of violations of the internal-revenue laws relating to alcoholic liquors were received from field officers and audited and the tax liabilities disclosed thereby were assessed, including ad valorem penalties. This Section also certified to the Commissioner 1,304 assessment lists, which carried 24,673 items, totaling $18,787,033, listed by the Section, and 213,357 items, aggregating $19,283,750, listed by collectors.

Claims.—There were on hand at the beginning of the year 5,728 claims of the four main classes—refund, redemption, abatement, and uncollectible—aggregating $1,202,406. During the year, 20,587 such claims were received, in the amount of $7,695,095, of which 19,064 claims were allowed and 1,943 were rejected, leaving 5,308 on hand at the end of the year.

Offers in compromise.—At the beginning of the year 14,991 offers in compromise, aggregating $176,579, were on hand. During the year 45,362 offers were received, amounting to $600,683, of which 49,809 offers, amounting to $387,962, were accepted; 1,013, amounting to $60,628, were rejected; and 82, amounting to $9,597, were withdrawn; leaving 9,449 offers, aggregating $319,073, on hand at the end of the year.

Floor tax.—The audit of floor-tax returns required by the Liquor Taxing Act of 1934 was completed during the year. There were 75,804 returns filed, reporting floor taxes aggregating $8,699,139.

OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT GENERAL COUNSEL

The activities of the office of the Assistant General Counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue embrace the whole field of Federal taxation in connection with the preparation and presentation to the United States Board of Tax Appeals of defense in all appeals; the review of refunds, credits, and abatements, in excess of $20,000; the deciding and advising in various administrative and internal-revenue tax matters referred by the Secretary, Under Secretary, or an Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, the General Counsel for the Department of the Treasury, the Commissioner or the assistant to the Commissioner, the heads of the administrative units of the Bureau, collectors of internal revenue, other branches of the Government, and individual correspondence; the preparation at the request of the Department of Justice or of United States attorneys of data for use in the prosecution or defense of tax cases (civil and criminal) in suit, and otherwise complying with their request for assistance in such cases; and the preparation, revision, and publication of regulations, Treasury decisions, mimeographs, and rulings for the guidance of the officers and employees of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and other interested persons. The office is divided into six divisions, viz, appeals, civil, interpretative, penal, review, and legislation and regulations.

Assistant General Counsel's committee.—The Assistant General Counsel's committee, composed of five members, receives and passes upon cases from all divisions of the office referred to it by the Assistant General Counsel, the special assistants, and the general assistants. During the year the committee received 256 cases and disposed of 237, leaving 19 cases pending.

Reorganization section.—The reorganization section established on September 25, 1934, and consolidated with the bankruptcy and receivership section on January 22, 1935, is charged with the duty of protecting the claims and interests of the United States in corporate reorganization proceedings instituted under sections 77 and 77B of the National Bankruptcy Act. These amendments provide that, if the United States is a creditor or a stockholder of a railroad or other corporation in reorganization, the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized to accept or reject a plan of reorganization in respect of the interests or claims of the United States. The reorganization section notifies the various governmental departments and agencies of the institution of these proceedings and receives in return information in regard to their claims; ascertains the existence of outstanding or pending tax claims, and communicates with the collectors of internal revenue relative to the filing of proofs of such claims; corresponds and holds conferences with attorneys for the debtor corporations regarding plans of reorganization; advises and cooperates with United States attorneys regarding the preparation and conduct of reorganization cases arising under sections 77 and 77B; and assembles and submits to the Secretary of the Treasury data for his guidance in the acceptance or rejection of plans of reorganization.

Upon the filing of a petition for reorganization, the United States is considered to have an interest in the proceedings until, after receipt of information from the various departments and agencies of the Government, it definitely appears to the contrary.

The following statement shows the reorganization cases handled during the period September 25, 1934, to June 30, 1935:

New cases, fiscal year 1935.....	1,063
Cases closed during year.....	1,249
Cases eliminated.....	176
Cases pending June 30, 1935.....	1,736

In the 1,249 cases closed relating to bankruptcy and receivership, claims were filed in the amount of $6,457,089, and the sum of $2,554,483 was collected.

During the year 1,049 new bankruptcy and receivership cases, other than reorganization cases under sections 77 and 77B, were received, and 14 cases were added in which the debtor companies were originally involved in reorganization proceedings but later went into liquidation. The 176 bankruptcy or receivership cases which were eliminated were found to be involved in reorganization proceedings.

Appeals Division.—This Division has immediate charge for the Commissioner of all cases involving income, estate, and gift taxes filed with the Board of Tax Appeals, including those appealed from Board decisions to appellate courts. The progress of the work during the fiscal years 1930 to 1935 is shown in the following tables:

Civil Division.—The work of the Civil Division includes the preparation of statements of fact for the Department of Justice in all actions brought by taxpayers to recover taxes and for injunctions in the Federal courts, which statements set forth the position of the Bureau on the issues involved and contain references to applicable sections of the revenue acts, regulations, and decisions of the courts. The Division also assembles the evidence, obtains witnesses, and assists at the trial of cases when requested by the Department of Justice; prepares recommendations for or against the institution of suits in connection with claims of the Government against taxpayers, transferees, bonding companies, and others; and, when suits are recommended, prepares statements for the Department of Justice similar to those in actions brought by taxpayers. Stipulations of fact for the use of the Department of Justice and for submission to the courts in actions in the district courts and in the Court of Claims are examined and approved, modified, disapproved, or new stipulations prepared; and the Division makes recommendations for or against an appeal from adverse judgments of district courts and for or against applications to the Supreme Court for writs of certiorari in cases of adverse decisions rendered by the circuit courts of appeals and the Court of Claims.

All cases in which liens for taxes are involved in mortgage foreclosure actions pending in Federal and State courts are also handled by the Division.

The major activities of the Division during the fiscal year are shown in the following tables:

The Compromise Section handles all offers submitted in compromise of tax liability arising in the Miscellaneous Tax Unit of the Bureau, except those involving criminal prosecution, fraud penalties, or specific penalties. It is also charged with the handling of legal problems arising in the collection of taxes from banks in liquidation, from taxpayers who have made assignments of assets for the benefit of creditors, and from estates of deceased taxpayers.

The work of the section for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, is shown in the following table:

Interpretative Division.—The function of this Division is to construe for administrative purposes the various statutes relating to the internal revenue and to pass upon questions of law arising thereunder. It also had charge during the fiscal year of the preparation of Treasury decisions and of the editing of matter proposed for publication in the Internal Revenue Bulletin.

The following table shows the number of cases received, disposed of, and pending during the fiscal year 1935:

The number of cases disposed of in 1935 greatly exceeds that of any preceding year, resulting in fewer cases being carried over for action in the current fiscal year.

Penal Division.—The Penal Division of the Office of the Assistant General Counsel handles both income-tax cases and miscellaneous tax cases, prepares opinions construing criminal and percentage-penalty statutes, and deals with particular cases involving criminal liability and percentage penalties for fraud (and occasionally for negligence or delinquency), including offers in compromise of such cases. It also prepares opinions as to whether cases closed by agreement under section 606 of the Revenue Act of 1928, and similar provisions of other revenue acts, should be reopened because of "fraud or malfeasance, or misrepresentation of a material fact," and considers claims for reward under section 3463 of the Revised Statutes. Whenever requested by the Department of Justice, an attorney from this Division assists in the prosecution of criminal cases.

At the beginning of the year, 1,524 cases were pending in the Penal Division. New cases in the number of 1,266 were received and 1,588 cases disposed of during the year, leaving 1,202 cases pending on June 30, 1935, a net decrease of 322.

Formal claims for reward for information relative to violations of internal revenue laws were filed and disposed of during the year ended June 30, 1935, as follows: Pending July 1, 1934, 294; presented during year, 121; disposed of during year, 174; pending June 30, 1935, 241. Of the 174 claims disposed of, 113 were rejected and 61 were allowed in a total sum of $43,652, all of which were paid prior to July 1, 1935. The 241 claims pending are awaiting receipt of reports from the field officers of the Bureau who are conducting investigations thereof or the closing of the tax cases to which such claims relate. There were also 181 informal claims disposed of during the fiscal year, which left 85 informal claims pending.

Review Division.—This Division reviews overassessments of income, excess-profits, war-profits, estate, and gift taxes proposed for allowance by other agencies of the Bureau where the amount of the overassessment in any case exceeds $20,000, and refunds of any taxes in excess of $20,000. It prepares reports to the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation required by section 710 of the Revenue Act of 1928, where the overpayments of income, excess-profits, war-profits, estate, or gift taxes exceed $75,000, prepares public decisions where the overassessment exceeds $20,000, and examines and reviews special cases referred to it by the Assistant General Counsel for the Bureau. The number of cases handled by the Division during the fiscal year 1935 is shown in the following summary:

	Estate and miscellaneous taxes	Income tax	Total

The difference between the total of $73,589,562 approved in all cases reviewed and the total of $65,902,674 shown in the public decisions is attributable to delayed application of credits, cases pending before the joint committee during the 30-day period not yet expired on June 30, and uncompleted final scheduling of allowances.

Legislation and Regulations Division.—The function of this Division is to prepare or review all regulations interpretative of the internal-revenue laws; make reports on suggested changes in the internal-revenue laws and the existing regulations thereunder, and, if change is found desirable, to explain in detail the reasons therefor and the form to be followed; and consider and prepare reports on legislation introduced in Congress relating to internal-revenue matters.

TECHNICAL STAFF

The settlement of tax cases for many years was conducted by an independent agency attached to the Commissioner's office. This work is now carried on by the Technical Staff, which began functioning as of November 16, 1933 (Mim. 4100, C. B. XII-2, 496). The primary purpose of this organization is to afford the public a more direct and expeditious procedure for the settlement of its tax disputes. Under the procedure of the staff, the senior technical advisor is responsible for the supervision of a basis of settlement in a particular case and reports directly to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

In addition to the staff's legal and accounting activities in the settlement of docketed appeals pending before the United States Board of Tax Appeals, the settlement of protested 90-day cases, and the preparation of defense recommendations, the Technical Staff has during the past year completely reviewed for the Commissioner all final closing agreements under section 606, Revenue Act of 1928, requiring the signatures of the taxpayer and the Commissioner and the approval of the Secretary or the Under Secretary of the Treasury. In the performance of this function a case is reviewed by the staff from the filing of the return on through to the tax determination. The Technical Staff also has the task of considering and making recommendations in respect of all offers in compromise of income taxes, excepting cases involving fraud and those coming under the jurisdiction and supervision of Federal or State courts.

In addition to these duties, the Technical Staff on February 26, 1935, took over the complete handling of all applications for extension of time within which to pay (1) original income tax, the granting of which requires the act of the Commissioner alone; and (2) deficiencies in income tax, the granting of which requires the act of the Commissioner and the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. In connection with these cases it is necessary to analyze financial statements, earnings statements, and other financial data, in order to make recommendations in respect of all applications for extension of time for the payment of income taxes.

On July 1, 1934, the Technical Staff had 3,770 dockets, including estate tax cases, pending before the Board, involving 4,720 tax years, together with some miscellaneous work and cases in the old "60-day status." During the year ended June 30, 1935, the staff received 3,747 Board dockets and settled by agreement 1,616 dockets; recommended for defense 1,442 dockets; and returned for various reasons 1,247 dockets to the Assistant General Counsel with no final recommendation. On June 30, 1935, the staff had on hand 3,161 Board dockets involving 4,028 tax years, with a small volume of miscellaneous and 90-day status cases. The 1,616 dockets settled involved asserted deficiencies of $39,781,474; the agreed settlement deficiencies aggregated $21,287,302, or 54 percent of the imputed deficiencies. The settled tax deficiencies included $10,528,778 asserted gross estate tax deficiencies, which became $5,362,671 recomputed gross deficiencies, and the settlement deficiencies included $4,008,485 enforced statutory tax credits allowed by the staff.

The foregoing statistics do not include the results of the circuit settlement groups composed of attorneys of the office of the Assistant General Counsel for the Bureau of Internal Revenue and of members and field representatives of the Technical Staff. During the year ended June 30, 1935, the staff averaged 11 men per month devoting full time to joint settlement work in connection with all Board circuit calendars.

Owing to the difficulty of presenting in statistical form the true situation in estate-tax cases (because of the varying effect of the statutory credit provisions), a detailed compilation of settlement work by the staff has been made in Board dockets involving income tax only. During the year the staff considered 2,852 income-tax Board dockets, of which 1,476 dockets, or 51.75 percent, were settled by agreement. In the dockets settled the deficiencies asserted in the statutory notices totaled $29,252,696 and the agreed settlement deficiencies amounted to $15,924,631, or 54.44 percent.

During the year the Technical Staff also considered so-called "90-day cases" which involved protests filed by taxpayers after the final notice of deficiency was issued but prior to the expiration of the period within which a timely appeal may be filed with the United States Board of Tax Appeals. The bulk of this work falls within the months of February to June and these cases must be handled promptly and expeditiously so as to be disposed of within the 90-day statutory period within which a timely appeal may be filed.

During the fiscal year 1935, 1,379 90-day cases were considered by the staff, of which number 548 were settled by agreement, 422 were disposed of with no appeal filed (the entire amount shown in the deficiency notice being assessed and made available for collection), and 409 were appealed to the United States Board of Tax Appeals. The statutory deficiency notices in these 970 cases settled or disposed of with no appeal filed asserted deficiencies totaling $2,288,791 and the recomputed deficiencies assessed totaled $1,217,870, or 53.21 percent.

The Technical Staff also had on hand July 1, 1934, 1,251 compromise cases. During the year ended June 30, 1935, there were received 1,500 cases and 2,064 cases were disposed of, leaving a balance of 687 cases on hand June 30, 1935. The handling of extension of time cases was taken over February 26, 1935, on which date 448 cases were received. Between that date and June 30, 1935, there were received 296 cases, and 560 cases were disposed of, leaving 184 cases on hand June 30, 1935. There were 76 final closing agreement cases on hand for review July 1, 1934; 408 additional cases were received during the year; and 462 such cases were disposed of during the year, leaving a balance of 22 cases on hand June 30, 1935.

INTELLIGENCE UNIT

During the fiscal year, 621 investigations were made of alleged evasions of income tax, resulting in the recommendation for prosecution of 159 cases. There were 50 convictions on this charge, with 1 acquittal during the year. Investigation of these cases resulted in recommendation for assessment of additional taxes and penalties aggregating $20,212,161.

There were 2,901 investigations of applications of attorneys and agents to practice before the Treasury Department and 88 investigations of charges against enrolled agents and attorneys, resulting in the disbarment of 13, the suspension of 8, the reprimand of 6, and rejection of applications of 37.

During the year 147 cases of charges against employees of the Bureau of Internal Revenue were investigated, resulting in the separation from the service of 89 employees and the prosecution of 12, of which number 11 have been convicted and the twelfth has not yet been tried.

There were investigated 5,253 cases of miscellaneous character, including investigations of field employees of the Alcohol Tax Unit; a number of cases for the Bureau of Narcotics, the Federal Alcohol Control Administration, the Customs Service, and national bank examiners; and persons under consideration for appointment to various positions in the Treasury Department, including officials of branches other than the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Among the latter were applicants for appointment to the positions of revenue agents and deputy collectors and to various capacities in the Treasury Department from the relief rolls.

NOTE.—Manufacturers pay processing and excise taxes in the districts in which their principal places of business are located. The collections by States are not entirely indicative of the Federal tax burden of the respective States, since the taxes may be eventually borne by persons in other States.

Washington

¹ Internal revenue collection districts follow State boundaries, except that the Maryland district includes the District of Columbia (also Puerto Rico for agricultural adjustment tax collections and the Philippines for sugar tax collections), and the Washington district includes the Territory of Alaska. The amounts collected by States are not entirely indicative of the Federal tax burden of the respective States since the taxes may be eventually borne by persons in other States.

² The counties of Henderson, Knox, Peoria, and Warren were transferred from the first to the eighth Illinois District July 1, 1934.

¹ The figures concerning internal-revenue receipts as given in this report differ from such figures carried in other Treasury statements showing the financial condition of the Government, because the former represent collections by internal-revenue officers throughout the country, including deposits by postmasters of amounts received from sale of internal-revenue stamps and deposits of internal-revenue collected through customs offices, while the latter represent the deposits of these collections in the Treasury or depositories during the fiscal year concerned, the differences being due to the fact that some of the collections in the latter part of the fiscal year cannot be deposited or are not reported to the Treasury as deposited until after June 30, thus carrying them into the following fiscal year as recorded in the statements showing the condition of the Treasury.

² Tax receipts are credited by the States in which the collections are made. Receipts in the various States do not indicate the tax burden of the respective States, since the taxes may be eventually borne by persons in other States.

³ Includes collections for credit to trust funds as follows:

Income tax on Alaska railroads (act of July 18, 1914).....	$2,873.70
